Watch the movie "The Men Behind the Sun." You'll never look at a Sony TV, Honda, or a Toyota" the same way again. The mistakes of the past are one thing. Covering them up and denying them are another. Ignoring a shameful past doesn't make it go away. There is no honor in that at all.

In Nanjing Massacre the Japanese raped children and then sliced them into pieces, they torn eyes from babies and boiled them alive. they raped a pregnant women and then torn her fetus out as a plaything before slaying it to their bayonet and laughed. Definitely not humans. Japanese of today like YOU have same mentality like your criminal ancestors. Japanese will be Cancer for all humankind forever.

@007Influence Yeah, It's very true that it is left out too much in history education, as many allies lost their lives in asia that are untold of. Of course there are more appalling and noteworthy stories from asain ww2 than ally occupation, but yes it gets left out too easily.

Memories of Japanese war crimes continue to poison Japan's relations with its neighbours. Many Chinese are still suffering the effects of a vicious campaign of germ warfare.

→ "Our unit did things no human being should ever do," confesses Unit 731 member Yoshio Shinozuka. His unit developed the deadly pathogens which were used to infect 250,000 Chinese. Japan's refusal to apologise for its actions, or to acknowledge Unit 731's existence, has further upset its victims.
